

Trade to Travel is the “Countries Club” for owners of luxury vacation assets: exceptional homes and villas, motor and sailing yachts, enchanting inns and boutique hotels, spas, chalets, castles, private aircraft, and private islands.

Via Trade to Travel, members enjoy one another’s fine properties worldwide for 10% to 20% of the cost of renting. That’s right — members save 80% to 90% each time they “trade to travel.”

The concept behind Trade to Travel (TTT) is simple. Owners of vacation properties use TTT to dramatically and immediately leverage their investment(s), transforming their individual assets into a dazzling network of over 1200 fabulous accommodations in 27 countries.

Here’s the deal. Each time you host a TTT member, you accrue valuable “points” in your TTT Account. Each point is worth $400. Each time you are a guest in another member’s home, you “spend” points which you have accrued (rather than dollars, pounds, Euro, etc.).

Question: Do you need to own a luxury property in order to be able to take advantage of the services of Trade to Travel.

Answer: No! For those who don’t own vacation assets, Trade to Travel acts as a luxury rentals firm. If you demand more from your travels than a kingsize bed and continental breakfast, a call to the friendly, knowledgeable staff of Trade to Travel is the place to start.

The bottom line? If you own a golf course, an abbey, a 4 or 5-Star boutique hotel in the United Kingdom, a 6-Star property in Australia or Thailand, a centuries-old villa in Tuscany, a flat in Paris, a penthouse in Manhattan, or a slope-side chalet in Whistler or Switzerland, Trade to Travel is for you. If you own an artistic loft or a handsome apartment in San Francisco, Chicago, or South Beach, Trade to Travel is for you. If you own no vacation property whatsoever and you’re planning a romantic escape for two (or a family excursion for ten), Trade to Travel is for you!

Bon Vivant Villa, St. James, Barbados

Recognized by The London Times as “one of the most gracious getaways for the well-heeled,” Bon Vivant is a world-class villa cocooned in the renowned Sandy Lane Estates on the ever-enchanting isle of Barbados. At Bon Vivant, guests are pampered by a staff of up to 14 (often one staff member per guest), continually anticipating the needs, wants, and wishes of celebrities, British royalty, and those fortunate enough to spend precious time in this lavish abode.

Created for recreation, Bon Vivant offers a remarkable array of leisure and sports activities and facilities — all available without ever leaving “home.” In addition to indoor, air-conditioned racquetball court, and the sparkling 50-foot swimming pool, there is a full-scale basketball court, and a well-lit tennis court, perfect for cool evening play. There is also a world-class fitness center outfitted with only the best gym equipment, a volleyball and badminton court, shuffle board, a Jacuzzi, and a traditionally-styled billiards room.

For those who seek the sun and sand, a five-minute walk takes you to the Sandy Lane Hotel and its private beach. There, attendants pamper guests to the fullest extent, including carrying their sun chairs and chaise lounges to and from their favorite spots on the white sand. Once properly situated, there is nothing more relaxing than to take in the crystal green and blue, warm and wondrous waters of the Caribbean, which will mesmerize, refresh, and restore your senses. For your convenience, a handy refrigerator is kept at Bon Vivant’s little beach side cabana. Each night, after a full day of doing everything or nothing, happy guests melt into their “to-die-for” beds (one is even suspended!) boasting only the finest linens. How much better could life possibly get?

The U.S.S. Sequoia

Regarded as “the most famous vessel in America,” The U.S.S. Sequoia has been used and enjoyed by nine U.S. presidents and innumerable foreign dignitaries for both business and pleasure.

Designated by Congress as a National Historic Landmark, The U.S.S. Sequoia has been the stage upon which some of America’s most historic events have taken place. Launched into the Potomac River in 1925, the 104-foot vessel was used during the Harding administration to enforce Prohibition. Onboard FDR and Eisenhower planned D-day; LBJ lobbied for civil rights legislation and planned Vietnam War strategy; Nixon negotiated the first arms control treaty with the Soviet Union and later made his decision to resign while sitting on the ship’s back deck; and JFK celebrated his 46th and final birthday among friends.

One can’t help but feel like a dignitary or celebrity as you walk up the gangplank and board in the same manner as so many famous and influential people have done for decades. To stand on the deck and look across the harbor makes for a special and unforgettable experience — and that is what Trade to Travel is all about. Experiences.

The Franz Klammer Lodge

Whether you are a golfer or fly fishing enthusiast, spa lover, or avid skier looking for champagne powder in which to plant your poles, the world-famous Franz Klammer Lodge and Telluride promise unsurpassable luxury and breathtaking alpine beauty.

The sixty-three residences of the five-star Franz Klammer Lodge unquestionably enjoy the most privileged slope-side position, at nearly 10,000 feet, in Telluride’s exclusive Mountain Village. The Lodge’s two and three bedroom suites are renowned for attention to detail and quality of décor. Guests of The Lodge invariably declare the accommodations to be among the most elegant and well appointed they’ve ever experienced. In addition, there’s pre-arrival trip planning assistance, the fabulous private Himmel spa, 24-hour concierge services, a heated indoor/outdoor lap pool, a full fitness center, game rooms, and an 18-hole championship link-style golf course. Your ski-in/out “home” is fitted with a sub-zero refrigerator, Viking gas oven/stove, washer/dryer, a steam shower, high-speed Internet, surround sound, luxurious bedding, a gas fireplace, and a gas grill on your porch. Did you forget to pack something? You're in luck! The "free use" program provides jackets, gloves, goggles, hats, fishing poles, etcetera — just about everything you could need or want to optimize your experience of this all-season playground.

After being greeted by a friendly driver at either the Montrose or Telluride airports, you arrive at a chalet where the kitchen has been stocked with everything you desire, including adult beverages; dinner reservations are made; tee times are set, and yes, spa treatments have been scheduled. There's valet parking, valet ski storage, and a no-tipping policy throughout (excluding spa therapists). There is even a Monday night Welcome Party - all of which combine to create the sociable, carefree, home away from home atmosphere to which the Franz Klammer Lodge is not only dedicated by famous.

Then, there's Telluride itself. With its stunning box canyon, glacier-carved valley, sophisticated dining, numerous and diverse fine art galleries and boutique shops, surely there's no more spectacular a destination.

... and Nicklaus Golf Resort Living. You're Closer Than You Think.

At The Bridges Golf and Country Club, our Nicklaus-designed golf course has all the stunning beauty Colorado can offer. Views of the San Juan and Cimarron Mountains surrounded by creeks, arroyos and lakes give our community all the attention it deserves.

Close to you are lush national parks, canyons, rivers and streams — the ultimate playground for whatever your outdoor imagination can dream up. Elegance within reach — a community close to what you care about. Spectacular homes start in the $600s and homesites are from the $170s. Non-resident memberships also are available. Ask about our Stay & Play Discovery Package.
